Now is the time to really get started: what do you know about post-PhD career paths and options?

It is of primary importance that you stay informed on this topic. The activities offered here will enable you to discuss your thoughts on Career Development for PhDs and to make your own assessment of the current situation.

Let's start with a quick survey! The survey results will be shared with all of you during the webinar that will take place on January 19th, 2021, which will be held by the PhDOOC team.
